

JUN 11 - HURRY UP & WAIT!

A short report today. After breaking camp, we stopped to drop off the recycling, etc. I happened to mention to one of the park hosts about the broken spring. He had a look and suggested he wouldn't want to drive it too far "like that".

That was all the encouragement I needed. A few minutes later, I was on the phone to AAA. We have full RV coverage on the rig, so I asked for a flatbed tow truck to transport Ali 26 miles to Tillamook RV Repair.

About 45 minutes later the truck arrived. It was a busy day for AAA. Because we were a "long tow", the driver attended to a couple of other calls he had in the park before loading Ali onto the flatbed.

You might be able to see that the front tire has quite a bulge while the rear tire looks "normal". That's 'cause the front tire is carrying all the weight!

While all this was happening, a couple with their white Golden "Olie" whom we had met when we first arrived, pulled in to hook up their car to the motorhome. Here's Oli...

About 4 hours after it started, we were safely parked at the back of Tillamook RV Repair.

That's enough excitement for today. Tomorrow, Ali get a new spring (or 2) and we head north, continuing our trek home.
